What is ARCHI?

The Australian Resource Centre for Healthcare Innovations (ARCHI) is the national knowledge sharing and networking service for health professionals, supporting clinical practice improvement and innovation.

Our services are provided to save you time and to help you avoid reinventing the wheel.

More than just a source of information, ARCHI actively supports the learning process for health professionals promoting discussion, sharing tools and resources as well as connecting people.

With ARCHI you can:

Learn

- Search the ARCHI website for innovation projects in your field
- Review up to date models of care e.g. Cardiology, Chronic and Complex, Older People, Surgery, and Emergency Care
- Read about current initiatives in safe patient clinical handover
- Keep up to date with frontline priority areas e.g. Surgery, Emergency Care and Mental Health
- Download implementation resources for Medical Assessment Units in NSW
- Subscribe to the ARCHI newsletter to keep up-to-date with current initiatives.

Share

- Use the ARCHI site to support the implementation of your program by sharing your resources
- Promote and share your clinical experience and knowledge with clinicians in other hospitals by adding your work to the ARCHI website.

Connect

- Collaborate with professionals from all over NSW through our resource contacts and networking opportunities
- Participate in the ARCHI discussion forums.
